This CV may be kept on file and distributed for employment purposes.

I am a 2D digital animator, editor, artist, and filmmaker, working primarily with the Adobe Suite. My work is characterised by a strong graphical style and bold, a bold, refined colour palette. With a love for character animation, my animation style is fluid, always growing and evolving, constantly experimenting with new programs and techniques for a different result, and therefore my work is very adaptable to work across different projects. A graduate from the BA Animation (Hons) course at The University of the Creative Arts Farnham, I have real client experience, and a well-rounded knowledge of animation in digital media and the film making process. I'm driven and determined to push my work and improve. With my broad skill set and creative visual design, I have attributes to offer to the animation world. I'm keen to work, learn and create with a team who will push and inspire me as an artist and as a new professional in the industry. I have a strong work ethic and my favourite setting is working alongside other creatives, making a project bigger than ourselves. You'll often find me working on personal projects or messing around with blender.
